What We Learning

English Language Arts/Writing:

This upcoming unit will introduce key topics, including the author's purpose, punctuation, and the introduction of verbs.

Mathematics:

We are pleased to announce the introduction of fundamental concepts related to tens and ones, alongside the essential skills of plotting and comparing numbers. Mastering these foundational skills will significantly enhance understanding and facilitate future success in mathematics.

Science:

We are embarking on an enlightening journey to explore the various wonders associated with bodies of water.

Social Studies:

Our focus will continue on geographic concepts, including maps and an in-depth study of the continents.
