OCTOBER 2026

What I am Learning

ELA / Writing :

We will be continuing to review context clues, text features, and topic-relevant details, as well as different genres of stories. We will be introducing how to make predictions. For writing, we will continue to review how to write a sentence using correct punctuation. We will also continue narrative writing using possessive nouns.

Math:

This week in math, we will be learning about "Facts I Know" and using those facts to help us solve addition problems. Students will practice using addition facts they already know to make solving new problems easier and faster.

We will also begin working on adding three or more numbers. Students will learn strategies such as grouping numbers, making a ten, and using known facts to find sums efficiently.

Social studies:

We will learn about geography and explore the world around us. Geography helps us understand the physical features of the Earth, such as mountains, rivers, oceans, and deserts, as well as how people interact with their environment. We will study maps and globes, learn about different countries and cultures, and discover how geography affects the way people lives.
